The capacity to learn is A gift: the ability to learn is a skill: the willingness to learn is a choice

From the Principal's desk...

Dear Children,

Growing up is a tough task as it is and on top of it one has to deal with multiple expectations and unforeseen situations that stretch our skills. It seems that the struggle is never ending and every new test is designed to test our patience. It is enough to make anyone question the process and ask , "Why me?"

At such times, sometimes a simple story such as this one, can help us see things in a new light and help us overcome our internal struggles.

Once upon a time a daughter complained to her father that her life was miserable and dreary. She grumbled that she was tired of fighting and struggling all the time and not getting anywhere. It seemed that life was just one problem after another.

Her father, a chef, took her to the kitchen. He filled three pots with water and placed each on a high fire. Once the three pots began to boil, he placed potatoes in one pot, eggs in the second pot, and ground coffee beans in the third pot. He then let them sit and boil, without saying a word to his daughter.

The daughter, moaned and impatiently waited, wondering what he was doing.

After twenty minutes he turned off the burners. He took the potatoes out of the pot and placed them in a bowl. He pulled the eggs out and placed them a bowl. He then poured the coffee out and placed it in a mug.

Turning to her he asked. "Daughter, what do you see?"

"Potatoes, eggs, and coffee," she hastily replied.

"Look closer", he said, "and touch the potatoes." She did and noted that they were soft.

He then asked her to take an egg and break it. After pulling off the shell, she observed the hard-boiled egg. Finally, he asked her to sip the coffee. Its rich aroma and warmth brought a smile to her face.

"Father, what does this mean?" she asked.

He then explained that the potatoes, the eggs and coffee beans had each faced the same adversity — the boiling water. However, each one reacted differently.

The potato went in strong, hard, and unrelenting, but in boiling water, it became soft and weak.

The egg was fragile, with the thin outer shell protecting its liquid interior until it was put in the boiling water, then the inside of the egg became hard. However, the ground coffee beans were unique. After they were exposed to the boiling water, they changed the water and created something new.

"Which are you," he asked his daughter. "When adversity knocks on your door, how do you respond? Are you a potato, an egg, or a coffee bean?"

In life, things happen around us, things happen to us, but the thing that truly matters is what happens within us. We have the power to choose new ways of responding to life in any moment.

So, which one are you? And which one will you choose?

I wish you good luck and ask that you always have the ability to put your best foot forward no matter how great the challenge in front of you.

Blessings and good wishes,

Happy Teacher's Day

Teachers' Day

God Understood our thirst for knowledge ,

And our need to be led by someone wiser;

He needed a heart of compassion,

of encouragement, and patience;

Someone who would accept the challenge

Regardless of the opposition;

Someone who could see the potential

And believe in the best in others…….

so he made—a Teacher!!

"Teachers can change lives with just the right mix of chalk and challenges."

The Toadstool House

I wish I lived in a Toadstool house,

Beneath an old oak tree,

With a tiny door and a chimney pot,

I'd play with each wee squirrel,

Who chanced to come my way,

I'd get to know the woodland birds,

And if you ever wandered by,

I'd ask you in for tea,

Inside my little toadstool house,

Animal Riddles

What is black and white, black and white, black and white?

A penguin rolling down a hill.

What goes tick tock, bow wow, tick tock, bow wow?

A watch dog.

I am small and colorful. I have got big wings. I live in gardens. I used to be a caterpillar.

Butterfly

What time is it when a lion walks into the room?

Answer:

Time to leave

Where do cows go over the weekend?

Answer:

To the MOO- vies!

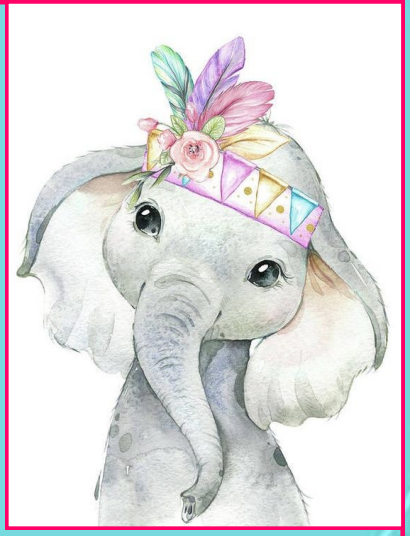
Why are fish so smart?

Answer:

Because they live in Schools.

I' m bigger than a cow,
Can peel my own
Bananas, and do not eat
Meat, what animal am I ?

Answer : Elephant.



The Hindus celebrate Janmashtami to mark the birth of Sri Krishna on the Ashtami of Krishna Paksha. Lord Krishna is the most powerful incarnation of Lord Vishnu, who had been sent to this mortal world to put an end to all evil.

Thus, his birth is observed as the arrival of the saviour and is celebrated with a lot of zeal. People keep fast and sing devotional songs all night. After Krishna's birth at midnight idols of baby Krishna are washed and dressed and then placed in a cradle. The devotees then break their fast, by sharing food and sweets.

Raksha Bandhan is one of the major festivals of the Hindus. The festival is made up of two words, namely " Raksha" and "Bandhan". As per the Sanskrit terminology, the occasion means " the tie or knot of protection" where "Raksha" stands for the protection and "Bandhan" signifies the verb to tie.

Keeping the tradition and the culture of this festival alive , the students of the Roseland displayed their enthusiasm by making beautiful and sparkling rakhis and cards for the occasion.

Happy Independence Day

On this Independence Day

We remember the years gone past.

We honor this very day

For our flag, old glory, has last

On this Independence Day !

Two centuries ago, we

Declared our Independence

For justice and liberty

Let us celebrate with joy and honesty.

INDEPENDENCE DAY

Independence Day is one of the most auspicious day in the year for every Indian. This day marks that one historic moment when India came to be recognized by the world as a nation with an identity of its own with its own rules and governance.

The 75th Independence Day of the country was celebrated in the virtual classes of Roseland. The students were excited and filled with patriotic fervor. They indulged in various activities like Flag Making, dance and singing.

HAPPY GANESH CHATURTHI

Ganesh Chaturthi is a Hindu Festival that is celebrated Every year especially in Maharastra and Karnataka. It is celebrated as the birth anniversary of Ganesh the youngest son of Lord Shiva Ganesh Chaturthi is celebrated in the month of August or September every year. In Hindu mythology, Lord Ganesh is "Partham Pujya" and is worshiped first among all gods.

Wishing you happiness as big as Ganesha's appetite.

Life is long as his trunk.

Trouble as small as his mouse.

Cinderella

Once upon a time in a village small
Lived a young girl who was pretty and tall
Her stepmother and sisters were very unkind
But dream she did with a free mind.

The mice in her room and the birds in her garden
were befriended
Day after day to the fire she tended.
She went about her chores with a song in her heart
The King's announcement gave her a start.

To the ball she wanted to go and dance
But her step family gave her no chance.
Off they went to woo the prince charming
When all she wanted to do was go dancing.

Her pleas fell on deaf ears
Her life had been tragic for so many years
Cinderella sat by the fire teary eyed
When Lo and behold
Her fairy Godmother appeared.

Her Godmother wanted to grant her wish
She waved her wand with a soft swish
Cinderella gazed at her with stars in her eyes
As the fairy godmother appeared to be wise.

She waved her wand

Her coach was a large pumpkin

Mice became horses and the lizards her footmen

The fat goose became the coachman

To attend the Ball they ran.

Cinderella looked beautiful in silver and blue

On her feet were the fairy glass shoes.

She danced with the prince as she twirled and whirled

The clock struck the hour of midnight as the magic was at an end

She ran away in fright into the dark night leaving her shoe

When all came home she was sitting by the fire to tend.

The Prince searched for her high and low

With the Glass slipper in his hand

Travelling to far off places and the distant lands

The day dawned bright and clear

As word spread that the Prince's men were near

The maidens tried the glass shoe

While his eyes searched for a maiden in blue.

With a radiant smile she wore her glass shoe

Magic transformed her dress to a silver and blue

The Prince took her to his castle and married her.

And of course they lived happily ever after!!!
